

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE CHICAGO

PAID
BY RAILWAY
EXCH.
AND EXCH.

Owge and operates nearly 3,500 miles of sufficiently equipped road in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota.

It is the Short Line and Best between all principal points in Northwest and Far West.

For passage time, habits, rates of passenger freight, etc., apply to the nearest station of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, or to the railroad agent at any point on the line.

World.
Travel.

General Manager. A. V. H. GARDNER
General Manager. Chicago, Pa. & Ticket
Agent. G. E. TUCKER. GEO. H. BEAUFORT
Asst. Genl. Mgr. Asst. Gen. Pass. & Ticket
Agent. MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN.

For notices in reference to Special excursions, changes of time, and other information, apply to the nearest station of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, or to the local commercial agent of this paper.

283 S. CLARK ST., CHICAGO, ILL.
Treats with great skill all
Private, Chronic Wasting and Nervous Disease
YOUNG OR MIDDLE-AGED MEN or any one, who by acts of imprudence at any time have brought about the terrible effects of the gression of Nature's laws, should consult Dr.

and stamps for his guide to locating give the of your nearest Express Office, and address
 W. H. H. M. D. 3
 132 S. Clark Street,
 Hours: 9 to 3; Sundays, 10 to 12. Chicago

BINGLES
DOWDLE

WILSON WASHBOARD

These Washboards are made of Bend-Wood rim. The Surface boards and ber-washers in world. For sale by all des-
 Take no other.

S. A. CLEVELAND BROS. CO.
 Saginaw, Mich.

To Advertise
A list of 1000 newspapers divided into States and Sections will be sent on application.
To those who want their advertisements to do effective work than the various sections select local list
Geo. F. Rowell
Newsweek Advertising Bureau
10 Spruce Street, New York

Breakfast Cocoa

Warranted absolutely Cocoa, from which the exc Oil has been removed. It has times the strength of Cocoa with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cup. It is delicious, nourishing admirably adapted for travellers as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers every where.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, N

BACK VIEW

Underwear is t
the Chest, Shoul Kidneys. Call an
For sale by
L. FORD,

W & E

RENTICES

Standard V [REDACTED]

The Daily Gazette will be delivered by carrier in Evansville every evening, at 7 o'clock except Sunday, for 12 cents a week. F. W. TOLLES, Agent.

COUNTY NOMINATIONS.

For Sheriff—NILES WARD, Town of Janesville.
For Register of Deeds—CHAS. L. VALENTINE, of Janesville.
For Clerk of Court—E. D. MCGOWAN, of Janesville.
For County Clerk—WAL. F. WILLIAMS, of Union.
For County Treasurer—WILLIAM MILLES, of Janesville.
For District Attorney—J. M. MALONE, of Beloit.
For Surveyor—EDWARD ROGER, of Harmony.
For Coroner—E. E. LOOMIS, of Janesville.

LEGISLATIVE TICKET.

For State Senator—A. P. LOVEJOY, of Janesville.
For Assemblyman—First District—W. M. NYE, of the town of Beloit.
For Assemblyman—Third District—J. C. BARTHOLOMEW, of Milton.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS.

For Superintendent of Schools—1st District—H. D. JONES, of Evansville.
For Superintendent of Schools—2nd District—H. C. PHOENIX, of Tipton.

LOCAL MATTERS.

As usual we have got the nobbiest styles in winter garments and are selling them at popular prices. We have got the best arranged cloak room in the city.
J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

I. O. Brownell has now choice Michigan apples. King, Spr, Greenings, etc., by the barrel, bushel or peck. See them.
Rooms to rent. Enquire at No. 4 North Jackson street.

The best fitting garments can be found at J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

For Sale Cheap.
$100 buys a pair of horses and buggy. Enquire at Jackson's livery.

C. E. Bowles has money to loan.

Our stock of short wraps, Newmarkets, and jackets is very large. Many of our styles are exclusive—drop in and see our garments before buying. Prices very down.
J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Short wraps and jackets in fringes, Astrakhan, broadcloth, velvet, boucle, and diagonal with all styles of fur trimmings at Bort, Bailey & Co.

A lady and gentleman, or two gentlemen, can be accommodated with first class board and rooms, by addressing P. O. box 1135.

We are showing a desirable line of short wraps, at J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

Fresh buckwheat flour just received at Brace & Brown's.

Notice.

All accounts due the grocery firm of Conners & Co. must be settled by Nov. 1st.

WANTED—A WOMAN OF SENSE, ENERGY and respectability for my business in Evansville, Ind. Salary about $10 per month. Permanent position. References exchanged.
E. J. JOHNSON, Manager, 12 Barclay St., N. Y.

Girl wanted for general housework.
Miss J. O. EOBLES, Mineral Point avenue.

To RENT—A desirable suite of rooms for light housekeeping, located on South Main street. For particulars enquire at this office.

Gentlemen's clothing renovated and repaired; satisfaction guaranteed and prices reasonable.
ADRY, 17 North Franklin street.

Assorted home made candies, chocolate creams and caramels at Golling's.

WANTED—Ladies, local or traveling. A wonderful entirely new specialty for ladies only. $1 daily easily made. No plaid, no outside parties. For particulars, call on Mrs. P. J. CUTLER, 105 1/2 Chicago St., Ill.

$500 buys a house and two good lots in second ward, centrally located and within two blocks of street cars. Come at once to secure a bargain.
C. E. BOWLES.

Black Morocco, Corns, Tokay Muscat, Catawba, Delaware, Concord and "Rose of Peru" grapes at Denniston's.

The three attributes of a wise man are bearing, forbearing and buying Skinner's candy.

5 A, Special Agent, and Golden Grain, the best 6-cent cigars in the market, at Golling's.

THEY ALL WANT THEM.
And will take no other. What we mean is A. Booth's brand of oysters such as Skinner serves to his customers.

More novelties in dress goods at Archie Reid's than at any other house in the city. Prices always the lowest.

Wheeler & Stevens, the real estate agents located in the Phoenix block, are always supplied with farms, and desirable city property at bargain. They do a general real estate business and show property free of charge. When you want to buy or sell anything in their line call and see them.

Acknowledged by all the ladies that are posted that Archie Reid's immense stock embraces more new styles and offers better inducements to buyers than any house in the city.

Patronize the Troy Steam Laundry or first class work. Call at the office for special prices or family work and large washings. Will call for and deliver work to any part of the city.

For RENT—Large first class house and barn with eight acres of land at desired.
H. H. BLANCHARD.

For the best assortment of ladies' and gents' pocket books and purses, call at Sutherland's bookstore.

Ladies, Misses, and children's fine rubber sandals cheap for cash, two doors west of postoffice.
G. COGSWELL & CO.

We are in a position to save you at least 10 per cent on any kind of a winter garment.
BOHR, BARTLEY, & CO.

Persons of all ages and sex should put in their best efforts to win the piano.

Children's dandelion waister cheaper than the raw material at J. T. Zeigler's.

Stiff hats in latest styles and in great variety at J. T. Zeigler's.

Briefs.

—Weather probabilities: Clear and higher temperature.

—Chocolatiers: Dainties for the epicure!

—A novelty in the grape line is the "Flaming Tokay" that Denniston exhibits.

—Autumn has come both bright and fair, and with it the drill of the Ocken-laters!

—W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., rally at post hall this evening—regular semi-monthly meeting.

—The campaign is now open and "free-born American citizens will be in their element for the next two weeks."

—The directors of the Harmony Insurance company held a meeting at the county clerk's office this afternoon.

—Street cars are beginning to set the fashion. Already street fronts commence to shine out in the familiar light yellow.

—People's Lodge No. 460, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular weekly session this evening—large room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

—Smith, the man arrested last evening at Alton, charged with robbing Michael McGrovey at Canary's boarding house, will probably be brought up for trial some day next week.

—Drivers who insist upon keeping on the wrong side of the car track still continue to obstruct Milwaukee street. Why they prefer to do this nobody can tell, but what the effect is to no one can doubt.

—The democrats will open their campaign in this city to-morrow evening. Lippie's hall has been secured, and Hon. Gilbert M. Woodward, the democratic candidate for governor, is announced as the speaker.

—William Tomkins, a mill hand working for C. W. Hodson, has his left hand caught in one of the fans yesterday. All the flesh was stripped from his fingers and the tips of two of them were completely cut off.

—The members of Oriental Lodge, No. 22, Knights of Pythias, and their families, will enjoy an "old fashioned social" this evening at their hall in the Jeff's block. Dancing, progressive euchre, hearts, etc., will be in order.

—There is an unusual number of Canada five cent pieces in circulation here. Some of the merchants have taken them for old fashioned dimes and one or two have made the same mistake with that other misnomer the nickel three cent piece.

—Grand Army parties are proverbially successful. That last night was no exception to the rule and as the sweet strains of music drowned the hum of conversation and the bursts of laughter, they gave new life to as happy a company as could well be assembled. Dancing was kept up until a late hour and the affair proved very enjoyable.

—James Murray, the young man who was caught in the act of burglarizing William Canary's house, and who tried very hard to break away from Officer Smith after his arrest, was up before Judge Patton for trial this afternoon.

The case attracted considerable attention, and "Five Points" was well represented among the spectators.

—Justice Prichard has given a decision for the defendant in the case of Shields & Co., of Chicago, against J. H. Jones. The suit was to recover payment on an account that Jones had paid to one of the firms traveling men. This man had no authority to receive money, according to the plaintiff's statement; but the court ruled otherwise as it was proved that this method of payment was a customary one.

—Why is the practice of stroking signs overhead across the sidewalks not stopped? Nothing except possibly the wooden awnings that were formerly so common detracts so much from the appearance of our business streets. In the case of the awnings this was finally realized and the unsightly objects were removed, but signs are still untouched. They are of no advantage to the merchant, not even having the quality of usefulness that was urged in favor of the "snow sheds," and public opinion in the matter should meet with a more ready response.

—The people of this city, and especially the democrats, will be disappointed in not having an opportunity to hear Sen. Voorhees, of Indiana. Mayor Winans used his best endeavors to persuade the senator to visit Janesville at the conclusion of the murder trial at Stevens Point, and make a political speech, but failed. Senator Voorhees informed a representative of the Gazette on Wednesday afternoon that he would like to visit Janesville, and address the people, but the people of Indiana demanded his services in the home campaign, and he was compelled to return at the close of the trial.

—Last evening Night Officer Ed. Smith captured a crook giving the name of Smith, charged with robbing his roommate at Canary's hotel, near the depot. It appears by the statement of Michael McGrovey, the person robbed, that he and Smith retired early in the evening, and soon after, Smith got up, took some $30 of McGrovey's money, and departed. He was missed by McGrovey shortly after, and Officer Smith was called. The crook was soon found, but managed to break away from the officer, who followed him down to Alton, where he recaptured him. The money was returned, and Smith was placed in jail. There are at this time a number of suspicious characters in the city, and our people will do well to be on the guard.

—Mrs. Blotiff has organized a music club composed of the members of her class for the purpose of studying musical history and musical literature. At each meeting the life of some one of the composers will be studied and one or more of his compositions performed. Yesterday the club met for the first time. The programme consisted of the reading of an article on the very earliest history of music. One on music as compared with other arts, read by Miss Lizette Paterson. Mrs. Blotiff played a Gigue by Haessler. Written about 1700 A. D. Miss Abbie Prichard played a Gavotte, by Bach, and Mrs. H. A. Doty and Mrs. Blotiff played a Theme and variations by Schubert. Altogether it was an enjoyable affair and will serve to quicken the intelligence and appreciation of those who are studying

THE TESTIMONY IN.

The Hazelton-Morse Murder Trial at Stevens Point.

The Testimony Submitted on the Part of the State.

Dr. Henry Palmer and Dr. Walter Kemper on the Stand.

Notes and Incidents of the Trial.

There are four grounds on which Mr. Hazelton is relying for a decision of innocence and justification, viz.: Justified homicide, emotional insanity, self-defense and Senator Voorhees' speech.

The father of the defendant is present at the trial. He is a tall, fine looking man, who seems to feel the solemnity of the situation most deeply. He lives about two miles northwest of Evansville, in Green county, where he is most highly esteemed.

In his search after knowledge Mr. Fether found something entirely new. He was asking Dr. Wigginton some most pungent question by way of cross-examination, one of which was: "Doctor, how would you define psychology?"

When he received this reply: "It is 'mystical' insanity." Depositions of the question served to extort only the same answer, and everybody wondered what was meant.

All possible influences have been, and are, resorted to, to influence public sentiment for the defendant; and to such an extent has this effort been carried that citizens are reluctant to testify to the truth when it is adverse to him.

His family and relatives are wealthy, prominent and influential, and they threaten to boycott those residents who want to see decent treatment accorded to the memory of the deceased.

The whole matter cannot be so guided or varnished that the depravity and iniquity of the crime could be concealed. This crowd consisted of a half dozen or more persons no one of whom appeared to be better or worse than the others. No better evidence could be given to prove the correctness of this statement than the fact that fully one-half of its members have left the stand and are out of reach of judicial writs of Wisconsin.

The Milwaukee Sentinel takes critical pains to withhold any item or fact that could redound to injure Hazelton. To illustrate, a witness swore that he saw Morse start away from the scene of shooting with a revolver in his right hand and a whip in his left. On cross-examination Mr. Winans showed that he swore at the request that Morse was whipping the horse with his right hand, and not a word was said about a revolver. The Sentinel says nothing about the cross examination.

Conspicuous in the hotel and court room is Senator Dan Voorhees. He is tall man of striking appearance, and with an enormous head. In some way the center of gravity seems to be out of place, as he takes very short steps and has a jerky gait. He is affable and agreeable, and who he speaks of "Joe," "Jeb" and "George"—meaning thereby, United States Senators Bowen, Vance and East.

The senator takes no active part in the exercises and seems to be there to deliver the speech which he has prepared for such occasions.

A long distance in Stevens Point can not be traversed without seeing familiar faces who are present at the trial. Apart from the Janesville delegation, several persons are here from Johnston, among whom is ex-Senator Pender, Mr. C. A. Dodge and a half dozen others come from Monroe. Mr. Dodge is the wealthy lumber dealer of that town, and was the first man who ever gave Morse a "job."

Judge Webb of Grand Rapids, presides over the trial. He is a substantial fellow, his decisions are prompt and impartial and he is generous in the admission of testimony. His motion on the bench strongly remind the Janesvillians of Judge Conger. Ex-Judge Cate is the leading attorney for the defense; he was elected to congress a few years ago by a trilling majority—say a dozen, and the election was contested but he was successful.

The attorneys for the state are Winans and Fether. It is usual in such cases for the state attorney to lead the prosecution, but in this instance he confesses his sympathy for the defendant; has assumed a condition of masterly inactivity if not of actual antagonism to the interests of the state. If the present attorneys however, have no assistance, there is no possible danger of the case falling into a state of innocuous desuetude.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Oct. 21.—The Hazelton trial is nearing the end. The evidence is about in, and arguments of counsel and the charge of the judge only remain to be delivered before the case goes to the jury. The attorneys for the state have little hope of securing a conviction. Mr. Winans said this morning that the prosecution could rely upon which of its witnesses it could rely. He said many by the attorneys for the state took the points of the greatest importance had suddenly and to the prosecution unexpectedly lost all recollection of the facts to which they were expected to testify. Other witnesses swore in distinct opposition to the statements made by them at the coroner's inquest, so that the state was placed at a disadvantage.

Mr. Winans was heard to say that had he known the difficulties lying in the way of the prosecution he would not have taken the case. He would not have become one of the attorneys for the state. However, the attorneys for the state are making out a strong case, and to-day the chances for Hazelton's acquittal are thought to be much poorer than twenty-four hours ago.

By the witnesses examined last yesterday afternoon the state showed beyond reasonable doubt that Morse did not fire at Hazelton as alleged by attorneys for the defense. Assistant Forester Cate, son of Judge Cate and husband of Mrs. Hazelton's sister, and was within 100 feet of the Wadleigh residence when the shooting took place. He saw Hazelton come out of Wadleigh's, saw him extend his arm, revolvers in hand, and heard three shots fired. He did not see a revolver in Morse's hand and did not see Morse fire at the defendant. Still, he could not positively say that Hazelton fired three shots. A dozen witnesses, business men, wives of prominent citizens, and a number of other persons, all swore that the muzzle of the gun was down, the evidence on this point being apparently conclusive. This, it is claimed, is an important victory for the prosecution. It was claimed by the defense that one of the two bullet holes in the carriage top was fired by

LIVING ISSUES.

Senator John C. Spooner Discusses them before a Janesville Audience.

A Plain Statement of the Situation in Wisconsin. Evils to be Remedied.

Much Enthusiasm.

When Senator Spooner entered the rink last night a large audience had already assembled. The speaker's words were on the north side of the floor and as the eloquent senator accompanied by a number of prominent republicans stepped out he was greeted with loud cheers.

In his speech he dealt with nearly all of the topics that are now being discussed. The democratic promises—promises that were never kept; the UNJUST AND UNRECORDED CHARGE made against republican administration; the treatment of soldiers' widows and orphans by Cleveland; these and many other wrongs done by the "reform" party were bandied in a way of which only Senator Spooner is capable.

He said that the democratic party's claim to be

THE WORKING-MAN'S FRIEND was ridiculous. Here in the state they have passed resolutions against convict labor and yet they are doing their best to break down the tariff that alone protects our workmen from the inroads of the convict and pauper labor of all Europe.

Turning to the local issues he said: "This year we have before us an important campaign in which our standard bearer Jeremiah M. Rusk [Cheese] has there been any fault found with his administration? Has there been any stain found on his government? And yet at Milwaukee the other day when I mentioned his name in the meeting, it was hissed, and at Hudson, I am almost ashamed to say it for I live there myself, when he stepped from the train, someone was so unmanly as to thrust into his face

A HAND BILL bearing the words: 'Shoot to kill!' Warning! Jeremiah M. Rusk is to be in the city to-day. He will probably be accompanied by Major Trauer. Women and children should keep in doors or the bloody scenes at Bay View may be repeated."

Thus they accuse him of being a murderer, and then charge as with 'revolving a revolver.' Was this republican word, the sending out of this handbill? Did republican hands do this? And what is this that they refer to? Last May at Milwaukee there was trouble. The peace and safety of the people were threatened.

Jeremiah M. Rusk was called upon by the local authorities for aid, and he went at once. They say that he went in Alexander Mitchell's private car. What of it? Do you suppose that when lawlessness had broken out Jerry Rusk wanted to choose the color of the shape of the car in which he rode? How silly. He went immediately, and seeing the situation, he called his militia for the protection of exposed property. The first day a mob advanced on the soldiers, and a volley was sent over the rioters' heads. Then Governor Rusk gave the order not to shoot unless it was necessary, but if it was necessary, to aim low. The mob came on again, the order was given to fire, there was one volley, and from that time the lawbreakers no longer reigned in Milwaukee. God only knows what destruction of life and property was prevented by that timely action, and Jerry Rusk been governor in Illinois those

BRAVE IRISH POLICEMEN would not have been killed by dynamite bombs. And for what he did the demagogue leaders would charge him with murder. Will you allow such a stain to be placed on him? Rally at the pole in November and give to the communists a lesson that they will not soon forget. [Cheers.]

In speaking of the local campaign, he spoke strongly in favor of Mr. Caswell's election, as one who had been on the ground he could say truthfully that the work done by that gentleman for his district had been strong and of great value. There was need of just such men in the halls of congress. In

THE STATE LEGISLATURE also the party must lose no representation, for this year there would be sent to Washington a senator to succeed the Hon. Philotas Sawyer, and that senator must not be a demagogue. He spoke of this especially, because of the defection in the third assembly district where an attempt was being made by some of the republicans to defeat Assemblyman Barthol and elect an independent or a demagogue.

"To my

THIRD PARTY friends I wish to say a few words," continued the speaker, "although I cannot say them as a prohibitionist, yet as a lone out of sixty senators at the state banquet, down my wine glass and touched not a drop to my lips, may I not, then, speak to you on the broader plane of temperance. Do you think that you are subserving that cause by your attempts to kill the republican party. When the bill was introduced in congress authorizing the collection of statistics on temperance work and thus giving a firm foundation for future efforts, every republican voted for it and every demagogue voted against it. And then do you expect to better your condition by sending to Washington in place of Philotas Sawyer the man who drafted this plank in the democratic state platform. Recalled that we are opposed to all salient laws. Let no temperance man desert Jerry Rusk and the ticket that is headed by his name. There never was a year when

REPUBLICAN SUPREMACY was so necessary to the good of the people and we should remember this when the time comes for us to cast our vote." [Cheers.]

When the Senator closed his remarks the audience seemed to all around him, anxious to shake hands and congratulate him. The speech was a powerful one and the arguments used were in each case, based on a solid foundation of fact. Rock county's campaign of 1880 has opened most auspiciously and the beginning is only a foretaste of the triumph that will come in November.

The women who were the women who know; they say Fairbank's Soap is perfect.

THE TESTIMONY IN.

The Hazelton-Morse Murder Trial at Stevens Point.

The Testimony Submitted on the Part of the State.

Dr. Henry Palmer and Dr. Walter Kemper on the Stand.

Notes and Incidents of the Trial.

There are four grounds on which Mr. Hazelton is relying for a decision of innocence and justification, viz.: Justified homicide, emotional insanity, self-defense and Senator Voorhees' speech.

The father of the defendant is present at the trial. He is a tall, fine looking man, who seems to feel the solemnity of the situation most deeply. He lives about two miles northwest of Evansville, in Green county, where he is most highly esteemed.

In his search after knowledge Mr. Fether found something entirely new. He was asking Dr. Wigginton some most pungent question by way of cross-examination, one of which was: "Doctor, how would you define psychology?"

When he received this reply: "It is 'mystical' insanity." Depositions of the question served to extort only the same answer, and everybody wondered what was meant.

All possible influences have been, and are, resorted to, to influence public sentiment for the defendant; and to such an extent has this effort been carried that citizens are reluctant to testify to the truth when it is adverse to him.

His family and relatives are wealthy, prominent and influential, and they threaten to boycott those residents who want to see decent treatment accorded to the memory of the deceased.

The whole matter cannot be so guided or varnished that the depravity and iniquity of the crime could be concealed. This crowd consisted of a half dozen or more persons no one of whom appeared to be better or worse than the others. No better evidence could be given to prove the correctness of this statement than the fact that fully one-half of its members have left the stand and are out of reach of judicial writs of Wisconsin.

The Milwaukee Sentinel takes critical pains to withhold any item or fact that could redound to injure Hazelton. To illustrate, a witness swore that he saw Morse start away from the scene of shooting with a revolver in his right hand and a whip in his left. On cross-examination Mr. Winans showed that he swore at the request that Morse was whipping the horse with his right hand, and not a word was said about a revolver. The Sentinel says nothing about the cross examination.

Conspicuous in the hotel and court room is Senator Dan Voorhees. He is tall man of striking appearance, and with an enormous head. In some way the center of gravity seems to be out of place, as he takes very short steps and has a jerky gait. He is affable and agreeable, and who he speaks of "Joe," "Jeb" and "George"—meaning thereby, United States Senators Bowen, Vance and East.

The senator takes no active part in the exercises and seems to be there to deliver the speech which he has prepared for such occasions.

A long distance in Stevens Point can not be traversed without seeing familiar faces who are present at the trial. Apart from the Janesville delegation, several persons are here from Johnston, among whom is ex-Senator Pender, Mr. C. A. Dodge and a half dozen others come from Monroe. Mr. Dodge is the wealthy lumber dealer of that town, and was the first man who ever gave Morse a "job."

Judge Webb of Grand Rapids, presides over the trial. He is a substantial fellow, his decisions are prompt and impartial and he is generous in the admission of testimony. His motion on the bench strongly remind the Janesvillians of Judge Conger. Ex-Judge Cate is the leading attorney for the defense; he was elected to congress a few years ago by a trilling majority—say a dozen, and the election was contested but he was successful.

The attorneys for the state are Winans and Fether. It is usual in such cases for the state attorney to lead the prosecution, but in this instance he confesses his sympathy for the defendant; has assumed a condition of masterly inactivity if not of actual antagonism to the interests of the state. If the present attorneys however, have no assistance, there is no possible danger of the case falling into a state of innocuous desuetude.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Oct. 21.—The Hazelton trial is nearing the end. The evidence is about in, and arguments of counsel and the charge of the judge only remain to be delivered before the case goes to the jury. The attorneys for the state have little hope of securing a conviction. Mr. Winans said this morning that the prosecution could rely upon which of its witnesses it could rely. He said many by the attorneys for the state took the points of the greatest importance had suddenly and to the prosecution unexpectedly lost all recollection of the facts to which they were expected to testify. Other witnesses swore in distinct opposition to the statements made by them at the coroner's inquest, so that the state was placed at a disadvantage.

Mr. Winans was heard to say that had he known the difficulties lying in the way of the prosecution he would not have taken the case. He would not have become one of the attorneys for the state. However, the attorneys for the state are making out a strong case, and to-day the chances for Hazelton's acquittal are thought to be much poorer than twenty-four hours ago.

By the witnesses examined last yesterday afternoon the state showed beyond reasonable doubt that Morse did not fire at Hazelton as alleged by attorneys for the defense. Assistant Forester Cate, son of Judge Cate and husband of Mrs. Hazelton's sister, and was within 100 feet of the Wadleigh residence when the shooting took place. He saw Hazelton come out of Wadleigh's, saw him extend his arm, revolvers in hand, and heard three shots fired. He did not see a revolver in Morse's hand and did not see Morse fire at the defendant. Still, he could not positively say that Hazelton fired three shots. A dozen witnesses, business men, wives of prominent citizens, and a number of other persons, all swore that the muzzle of the gun was down, the evidence on this point being apparently conclusive. This, it is claimed, is an important victory for the prosecution. It was claimed by the defense that one of the two bullet holes in the carriage top was fired by

THE TESTIMONY IN.

The Hazelton-Morse Murder Trial at Stevens Point.

The Testimony Submitted on the Part of the State.

Dr. Henry Palmer and Dr. Walter Kemper on the Stand.

Notes and Incidents of the Trial.

There are four grounds on which Mr. Hazelton is relying for a decision of innocence and justification, viz.: Justified homicide, emotional insanity, self-defense and Senator Voorhees' speech.

The father of the defendant is present at the trial. He is a tall, fine looking man, who seems to feel the solemnity of the situation most deeply. He lives about two miles northwest of Evansville, in Green county, where he is most highly esteemed.

In his search after knowledge Mr. Fether found something entirely new. He was asking Dr. Wigginton some most pungent question by way of cross-examination, one of which was: "Doctor, how would you define psychology?"

When he received this reply: "It is 'mystical' insanity." Depositions of the question served to extort only the same answer, and everybody wondered what was meant.

All possible influences have been, and are, resorted to, to influence public sentiment for the defendant; and to such an extent has this effort been carried that citizens are reluctant to testify to the truth when it is adverse to him.

His family and relatives are wealthy, prominent and influential, and they threaten to boycott those residents who want to see decent treatment accorded to the memory of the deceased.

The whole matter cannot be so guided or varnished that the depravity and iniquity of the crime could be concealed. This crowd consisted of a half dozen or more persons no one of whom appeared to be better or worse than the others. No better evidence could be given to prove the correctness of this statement than the fact that fully one-half of its members have left the stand and are out of reach of judicial writs of Wisconsin.

The Milwaukee Sentinel takes critical pains to withhold any item or fact that could redound to injure Hazelton. To illustrate, a witness swore that he saw Morse start away from the scene of shooting with a revolver in his right hand and a whip in his left. On cross-examination Mr. Winans showed that he swore at the request that Morse was whipping the horse with his right hand, and not a word was said about a revolver. The Sentinel says nothing about the cross examination.

Conspicuous in the hotel and court room is Senator Dan Voorhees. He is tall man of striking appearance, and with an enormous head. In some way the center of gravity seems to be out of place, as he takes very short steps and has a jerky gait. He is affable and agreeable, and who he speaks of "Joe," "Jeb" and "George"—meaning thereby, United States Senators Bowen, Vance and East.

The senator takes no active part in the exercises and seems to be there to deliver the speech which he has prepared for such occasions.

A long distance in Stevens Point can not be traversed without seeing familiar faces who are present at the trial. Apart from the Janesville delegation, several persons are here from Johnston, among whom is ex-Senator Pender, Mr. C. A. Dodge and a half dozen others come from Monroe. Mr. Dodge is the wealthy lumber dealer of that town, and was the first man who